

CONFESSED SLAYERS CRINGE IN FEAR OF POLICE VENGEANCE

ASSASSINS SEE VISION OF DEATH

Rosenthal's Murderers Protected From Bluecoats by Detectives
Lieutenant Becker Charged With Crime; Men Higher Up Sought

POLICE LIEUTENANT CHARLES BECKER, who has been arrested as head conspirator in the Rosenthal murder.

NEW YORK, July 30.—While Charles A. Becker, for nearly twenty years a member of the New York police department and latterly commanding the "strong arm squad," peered his cell in the Tombs today protesting his innocence of murder, New York officials, from mayor down, went forward with the investigation into the death of Herman Rosenthal, whose murder Becker is alleged to have instigated to frustrate a threatened revelation of an alliance between the lieutenant and gamblers of the Tenderloin.

In different cells, fearful of the lieutenant's vengeance and begging for protection, are Jacob (Jack) Rose, Louis (Bridge) Webber and Harry Valensky (Valon), who confessed last night they set the stars and stripes bidding and hired the assassins who put Rosenthal to death in front of the Hotel Metropole.

Police Commissioner Waldo conferred today with the mayor and later the mayor announced he would call a special meeting of the board of aldermen to begin an investigation of the police department. Commissioner Waldo had no statement to make, except to assert his innocence.

Lieutenant Becker has made no comment on his arrest. His wife and counsel visited him in his cell today. If the authorities hope to wring any confession from Becker, they must implicate any men "higher up" they have not so indicated in any way.

"GO-BETWEEN" TO TALK.
Hereford Marshall, counsel for "Jack Sullivan" (Jacob Reich), the "go-between" between Lieutenant Becker and Jack Rose, now held in the Tombs in connection with the murder of the gambler, Rosenthal, stated this morning that Sullivan was ready to tell all he knew and that his story would prove more astounding than any yet told Sullivan, he said, would not talk to either the police or the district attorney.

The indictment and arrest of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, soon after the confessions of "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Webber and Harry Valon revealed today to District Attorney Whitman the "police system" in all its hideousness.

The public prosecutor, following the trail of the three confessions, continued his search for evidence that would implicate those higher up than Becker, and more indictments of police officials are expected by the district attorney.

DEPARTMENT SHAKEN.
The arrest of Becker lays bare a scandal in the police department that threatens to shake it to its foundations, for District Attorney Whitman believes the story of the police chief has only half been told.

"Bald Jack" Rose confessed that Becker came to him and, fairly desperate over Rosenthal's intention of telling all he knew of his relations with the police lieutenant, said: "Rosenthal has tried too long. He has got to be put out of the way."

Rose told the public prosecutor and the grand jury how the murder band was hired at the instigation of Becker and that the killings Becker met with Webber and himself and promised complete police protection.

The confessions show that the confessions were "Lefty Louie," or "Lefty" Rose, Harry Horowitz, or "Old the Boss," Frank Muller, or "White Jack" Lewis, and "Dago Frank" Croft. Only Croft has been apprehended. These gunmen, members of the notorious "Big Jack" Boig gang, piled themselves with Rosenthal for a price said to be $5000.

SLAYERS FEAR FOR LIVES.
Terror-stricken, Rose, Webber and Valon met the night in the public prosecutor's office, fearing that they would be murdered if they were taken to the Tombs. District Attorney Whitman believes his case against Lieutenant Becker is without a flaw; that the confessions, taken separately, dovetailed exactly and with the tale of other witnesses the case against Becker cannot be broken down.

"Bald Jack" Rose, Becker's associate, says he was Becker's gambling house collector. He felt the ground slipping from under him day by day. With money or friends, he realized that he was being made to bear the weight of the crime. His counsel advised him to confess. Rose, however, completely terrified. To his counsel, James V. Sullivan, he said: "If you see to it that my wife and children are protected I'll come across and tell the truth about this. I am afraid it will be the end of me. No cell on earth will be strong enough to keep the life in a man who gives up about this killing."

ADVISE CONFESSIONS.
An indictment must be expected against him and then he confessed. Counsel for Webber and Valon, catching the drift of things, also advised their clients to tell the truth and become immune.

Rose told District Attorney Whitman that for a long time he had been Becker's gambling house collector. He felt the ground slipping from under him day by day. With money or friends, he realized that he was being made to bear the weight of the crime. His counsel advised him to confess. Rose, however, completely terrified. To his counsel, James V. Sullivan, he said: "If you see to it that my wife and children are protected I'll come across and tell the truth about this. I am afraid it will be the end of me. No cell on earth will be strong enough to keep the life in a man who gives up about this killing."

side. Becker had pressed Rosenthal to the wall, according to Rose, and threatened to make things public. Six weeks before the killing, Rose says, Becker sent for him and said Rosenthal must be made away with. Rose says he went out and saw "Big Jack" Seelig to make a deal for his gunner.

Seelig was under indictment for carrying concealed weapons and the possibility of a stay in Sing Sing prison did not appeal to him. Consequently, Rose says, when promised to see that nothing happened when Seelig came to trial, there was no trouble getting the gunner. All the gunners were informed to be ready to kill Rosenthal, who, in the meantime, had been shadowed day and night. A few days before the killing, Rose says, he met Webber and Becker and while the three were talking it over Becker said to Webber:

"This job has got to be done and Rose says they won't do it for him. Now, Bridge, you can get it done. They all know you. You have got the money and I have got the power. I'll protect everybody."

PLOT IS UNFOLDED.
Rose and Webber said they believed Becker would send them away and halt the power to do it. Then the murder plot unfolded itself quickly. Monday night came and with the word for the gunmen to get together, together and how, after the killing, he went out to the police to see how the job had been done.

When Rosenthal lay dead upon the sidewalk, the tabeleth spread over him, Rose says he went to a telephone booth and called up Lieutenant Becker, but he was so unmoved by the check that he could only gasp: "My God, this is horrible!"

Becker, Rose says in his confession, replied over the wire, in steady voice: "Oh, don't worry. I'll protect you."

Of the real murderers, Rose says: "These poor devils did not know what they were doing. They were full of booze. They had been told to kill and they went out and did what they were told."

SUPPLY MISSING LINKS.
Webber and Valon, in their confessions, supplied many missing links in the confession of Rose. Speaking of Becker and his alleged connection with gambling, Rose said:

"Why, of course, I was Becker's collector. Everybody knew it. Webber himself says that his protection payments for his gambling house to Becker, through Rose, were $125 a month."

Lieutenant Becker, who has been suspended, spent a quiet night in the Tombs.

"This is an awful plight for an innocent man to find himself in," said Becker this morning.

The three prisoners, Rose, Webber and Valon, were still in a state of terror today, though locked in a room in the district attorney's office and guarded by a squad of detectives. Webber was hysterical and frequently wept.

POLICE ARE NERVOUS.
The confession of Rose and the arrest and indictment of Becker created a panic in the police department and officials and patrolmen alike wondered who would be the next to be involved in the disclosures. That an investigation will be undertaken by the city in the police department appeared to be a foregone conclusion.

District Attorney Whitman said: "I am well pleased with the progress we have made. I am not in a position to talk about the next steps to be taken, but the statement made to me was startling in the extreme and I am bound to say that each of them seemed amply corroborated. I hope to clean up the whole affair."

Lieutenant Charles A. Becker, whose arrest last night came as a surprise, was a member of the Rosenthal murder. He has been a member of the Tenderloin for many years. He was back to New York in 1902. He remained a private in the ranks for ten years before he was promoted to a post as a roundman in 1903.

A few months after he became a roundman Becker came into the public view as the hero of a sensational drowning rescue on the east side waterfront. For this rescue he received a hero medal. Two years later, however, during the trial of Inspector Schmittberger, the man whom Becker had rescued from the water, is said to have made an affidavit stating that the rescue was "faked" and that he received a certain sum for his part in it.

The first serious case in which Becker was concerned was the shooting dead of a young plumber's helper, John Fay, who was killed in a burglary chase. Becker and another policeman were suspended following an investigation, but later they were reinstated.

Becker was placed in charge of the so-called "strong-arm" squad on June 30, 1911. Since that time he has been much in the public eye, making spectacular raids.

Last March a man was killed by a bullet fired during one of his raids. Becker was relieved from charge of the squad for a time, but was later reassigned to it. During the year he was in charge of the "strong-arm" squad, he made more than 2000 live raids, including the attack on Rosenthal's place on April 15.

WOMEN TO AID DESTITUTE WIDOW
Widow of 19 Left Without Funds With Two Babies to Care for.

The sad predicament of Mrs. Marie Eickmeier, who is but 19 years old, the mother of two babies, one but two weeks old and the other fourteen months, has touched the hearts of the neighbors residing in her locality.

Only yesterday the body of her husband was found on the Adler farm with a bullet wound in his head, a victim of his own hand.

The young widow is absolutely without funds to defray the expenses forced upon her at this trying time.

The women in the neighborhood where the Eickmeiers reside, have started a subscription to aid the unfortunate woman. Dr. Minora Kibbe, president, and Mrs. Dr. Nutting, chairman of the Laurel Club, have solicited the co-operation of THE TRIBUNE in procuring subscriptions. The club has contributed $10.

All who are desirous of aiding this fatherless family can send their offering to THE TRIBUNE office. The funds will be turned over to Dr. Kibbe for Mrs. Eickmeier.

Harriman Estate to Pay $3,000,000 Tax
ALBANY, N. Y., July 30.—The proceedings attending the appraisal of the estate of E. H. Harriman are being pushed with all possible speed by the state officials in charge of the estate. It is expected that the work will be completed in September. The estate has already made a tentative payment of $675,000 for the purpose of getting the 5 per cent rebate allowed under the transfer act, but it is estimated that the final settlement will net the state about $3,000,000. The estate is one of four that will pay large sums into the state treasury within a few months. The aggregate value of these estates is considerably more than $200,000,000. The Harriman property will probably have a valuation of nearly $70,000,000, while Colonel John Jacob Astor's will exceed $100,000,000. The other two large estates are those of Isador Straus and Benjamin Guinness, both victims of the Titanic disaster.

Berkeley Man Hears Threat Made Against San Francisco Policeman

Officers Believe Words May Have Bearing on the Bates Case

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—"If I wasn't going to meet a girl tonight I would go back over there and get that policeman."

These words, spoken in anger by a passenger on a Grove street car in Oakland on the night of July 20, may have some connection with the killing of Charles Bates in the Mission district.

At least they have become so impressed upon the mind of J. W. Atkins, an employee of the State Railroad Commission, who resides at the Y. M. C. A. in Berkeley, that he has communicated his knowledge to the police and given them a new clew to work on.

On the night in question Atkins, in the company of a young lady, was en route to a theater on a Grove street car. At Alcatraz avenue, where the Key Route extension runs, he boarded the car. He had evidently been struck on the face and was bleeding slightly about the nose. He took a seat among some men and rode a short distance.

MAKES THREAT.
He seemed to be angry about something and finally gave audible expression to the sentence quoted and hinted plainly in his mumbling that he had been struck by a policeman.

Atkins said he was in the car at the time, but later his companion called it to his attention and after reading about the killing of Bates he could not get it from his mind and decided that it was worth investigating.

"I thought that perhaps the man might have come over on the Key Route and taken the Alcatraz extension," explained Atkins, "and in this manner changed to the Grove street line. Of course it might have been another policeman and the two have no connection, but I kept thinking about it and it occurred to me that the man might have gone back later and carried out his threat."

DESCRIBES YOUNG MAN.
Atkins is sure that the individual he encountered was a very young man and his description of him does not tally with that circulated by the police in respect to either of the two individuals who were in the car at the time. However, the man who actually fired the shot which caused the death of the officer was not seen at close range by any one and it may easily be that all are mistaken in their characterization of him.

The San Francisco police today spread broadcast descriptions of the two men most intimately concerned, as they think, with the crime. A third person, when several witnesses saw, is not mentioned in the circular. The man who actually fired the shot is described as 40 years old, 5 feet 11 inches, 150 pounds, slim, with a mustache drooping over his mouth, salt-and-pepper hair, and garbed like a mechanic.

The shirt-sleeved individual is said to have been an Italian, 30 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, dark complexion, large nose, drawn features.

EIGHTH-STREET BRIDGE PILES ARE SWEPT OUT

Big Water Main Breaks and Traffic Across Lake Inlet Is Tied Up

With a roar that could be heard several hundred feet away, the Eighth street bridge, which is used to cross the inlet to Lake Merritt and over which cars of the Oakland Traction Co. pass at 10 minute intervals, sank several inches at an early hour this morning when pressure in the water main broke.

The break resulted in the 35 inch water main of the Peoples Water Co. bursting, sending a stream of water high in the air and causing a general scene of the wildest disorder. The gas main of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., which supplies the city of Alameda with fuel and lighting power, though not broken, the bridge was bent, but did not break.

The wreck resulted in a general traffic jam, and the Oakland Traction Co.'s East Eighth street service.

MUD TOO HEAVY.
The cause for the break is attributed to the fact that for the last few weeks a filling in of the eastern shore of the lake has been going on. Each day several tons of earth were dumped into the fill-in and as the pressure became greater and greater on the mud bottom, the bottom began to give out slowly from under the heavy strain. Suddenly, this morning, the mud foundation gave way before the heavy strain and was forced out from under the bridge and into the stream.

The piles were carried away with their mud foundation leaving the bridge without support. The girders and railroad rails held up the floor of the bridge. Support for the gas line are being put in place by a number of workmen from the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and the broken water main was repaired last afternoon.

The East Eighth street car service, although considerably hampered by the accident, will be able to continue. Instead, however, of going straight through to East Oakland it is now necessary for the cars to be turned at the bridge. The bridge has been damaged beyond repair and it will be necessary for a new structure to be built before it will be safe for vehicles or cars to cross.

AUTO KICKED TO PIECES BY MULE

Long 'Hee-Haw' Floats Across Silent Desert as Battle Dust Clears.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—A band of mules, the leader of which Rancher Smyth declared was named Maud, put an automobile out of commission last night and left the occupants of the car out on a desert road in a state of terror.

Coming down the road at thirty miles an hour, the headlight of the machine disclosed the mules, about fifty in number, just ahead. With a shrill "Honk, honk," the driver opened his valve and shot ahead. The mules fled.

A mile down the road there was a sharp turn, and as the driver slowed down he found himself confronted by the beasts in battle line formation. Without a sound the mules suddenly dashed for the car and with their heels practically destroyed the machine. Lamps were kicked off, the radiator torn to pieces and the car wrecked. After the dust of the battle had cleared and the occupants of the car were discussing their loss, the sound of a long "Hee haw" floated across the valley.

GEORGE WASHINGTON II INSISTS HE'S TRUTHFUL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—George Washington, a cool, was apprehended and charged at the city prison this morning with burglary following some fast detective work done by William Lockett of 1204 Stockton street, who accuses the boy of having stolen a quantity of clothing from his room. Lockett works in Oakland and remained there all night last night. He returned this morning, however, on the first boat and reached his room to find that it had been ransacked. Through information given by a maid and with the aid of a friend he traced the thief and finally pointed out Washington to Officers Piglow, Maloney and Joseph. A suitcase containing several articles of clothing were booked as evidence, but Washington insists he is not the culprit.

BLOW DEALT TO 'DOCTORS' TRUST'

Court Refuses to Hold Physician Who Violates the State Law.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Judge Cabaniss of San Francisco, sitting in extra sessions of the Superior Court here, dealt the "doctors' trust" a blow yesterday when he placed Dr. Jose A. Enriquez on probation and declared the state law forbidding any one who has the right to take the medical examination unless he could speak English should be remedied by the legislature.

Dr. Enriquez, a prominent physician in Mexico, came to Los Angeles because of the turbulent conditions in his home country. Testimony at the hearing showed that he had prescribed, without pay for a friend who was slightly ill, and for this he was arrested.

"Here is the case of a man undoubtedly high in his profession," said the court, "that is held back by a mere technicality. In all probability he could treat patients speaking any one of three languages in which he is fluent, as good or better than physicians whose vocabulary is limited to English. I will not send such a man to jail. This law should be remedied by the legislature."

HARVEY TO SELL PRIVATE PROPERTY

Petitions Referee in Bankruptcy for Permission to Make Move.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Commissioner Armand B. Kraft, referee in bankruptcy, this morning set August 10 as the day for hearing a petition filed on behalf of J. Downey Harvey to sell certain pieces of real property.

Harvey, who was the promoter of the Ocean Shore railroad, has been declared a bankrupt and today a petition was filed by his trustee, E. S. Stowe, asking permission to dispose of the property at private sale.

It will be necessary, however, for the referee to determine the advisability and reasons for the proposed sale and a public hearing has been arranged in order that any protest that might be forthcoming could be determined at that time.

TAFT PRAISES CARLISLE INDIAN

President Congratulates James Thorpe for His Victories at Stockholm.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—President Taft made public today a letter he sent to James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian school student, who was victorious in the Olympic games at Stockholm. The President said:

"I have much pleasure in congratulating you on account of your noteworthy victory at the Olympic games in Stockholm. Your performance was one of which you may well be proud. You have set a high standard of physical development which is only attained by right living and right thinking, and your victory will serve as an incentive to all to improve those qualities which characterize the best type of American citizens. It is my earnest wish that the future will bring you success in your chosen field of endeavor."

TO WALTZ ON SKATES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A novel form of sport, of interest to the kind of people who take in "Texas Tommy" Marathons, will be inaugurated here this evening. It is a "waltz skating contest," which means just what it says. Waltzing on rollers is accounted a difficult feat at the rink. The contest, which ends on August 3, after a series of preliminaries to eliminate the unfit, will put a premium on endurance as well as skill.

List of Candidates Lengthiest Yet Number of Petitions Filed Is 465

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—This Presidential year has drawn forth the largest crop of candidates for Congress and the legislature in the history of California. The total number of nominations for the primary received by Secretary of State Jordan up to last night, the expiration of the legal filing time, is 465. The revenue to the state in fees is $5430.

The number of petitions will be increased slightly by the few that will struggle in late today. Jordan says that he will certify to petitions postmarked not later than 12 o'clock last night.

The 465 petitions are made up of fifty-three for nomination to Congress, seventy-nine for nomination to the state Senate and 233 for the Assembly.

All except two of the petitions came from Republicans, Democrats or Socialists. The two exceptions are Prohibition candidates in the Seventy-fifth Assembly district and the Eleventh Congressional district.

The Prohibition candidates from the Eleventh district is Helen M. Stoddard of San Diego, the only woman candidate in the Congressional list. There are eight women candidates for the Assembly. Seven are Socialists; one is a Democrat.

Unless the petition was in the mails last night the Democrats have no candidate from the Third Congressional district, in which Charles F. Curry of Sacramento and Frank E. Vallejo are the contesting Republicans.

IN EVERY DISTRICT.
The Socialists have candidates in every district except the Second.

The Republicans have candidates in every Senatorial district, the Democrats in every one except the Third, and the Socialists in every one except the Third, the Twenty-seventh and the Thirty-fifth.

Six representatives in Congress are candidates for re-election—Baker of Modoc, Kahn of San Francisco, Knowland of Alameda, Needham of Modesto, Hayes of San Jose and Stephens of Los Angeles.

Four Senators and three Assemblymen of the Thirty-ninth legislature have ambitions to represent California at Washington. They are Senators Slaton of Alameda, Julliard of Santa Rosa, Holohan of Watsonville and Bell of Pasadena and Assemblymen Rutherford of Truckee, Williams of Chinese Camp and Randall of Los Angeles.

If You Destroy Flies for Sanitary Reasons

Why Not Do It in a Sanitary Way?

POISONED Flies drop into the food, the baby's milk, everywhere, or are ground into the carpets, rugs and floors. A poisoned fly is more dangerous than a live one. The poison is an added danger and does not kill the germs on the body of the fly. Fly traps are offensive and unsanitary, the care of them disgusting. The fly destroyer that catches both the flies and the germs they carry and coats them over with a varnish from which they never escape, is

CATHOLIC ORDER OBSERVES RETREAT

More Than 150 Members of Christian Brotherhood Gather.

More than 150 Christian Brothers, representing various schools throughout the state, are gathered at St. Joseph's Academy, Peralta Park, Berkeley, observing the annual retreat prescribed for this particular branch of Christian educators.

Rev. Brother Xenophon, provincial of the Christian Brotherhood of the Pacific Coast, is presiding over the exercises, observing the annual retreat prescribed for this particular branch of Christian educators.

The retreat commenced last Friday evening, July 26, and will conclude next Saturday at noon, after which the brothers from St. Mary's College, Oakland, and those of several other institutions will depart for a fortnight's vacation to be spent in the Russian river country.

Prominent among those at the academy are Rev. Brothers Fabrian, president of St. Mary's College, Oakland; Florinus, president of the Christian Brothers College in Sacramento; Timothy, president of Sacred Heart College, San Francisco; Paul, director of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum; Justin of Holy Cross College, Santa Cruz; Tolan, head of St. Peter's parochial school, San Francisco; Vivian, president of St. Anthony's school, East Oakland; Gregory, Vincent, Leo, Alfred, Vitus, Velleian, James and Peter.

Prior to the resumption of studies in the Christian Brothers' schools throughout the state for the fall semester commencing September 3, the appointments and changes in the faculties will be made by Rev. Brother Xenophon. But few changes are anticipated in St. Mary's College, the present faculty, which has served with but little change for the past five years, having been capable of affording ample instruction to the annual increase of students.

During the summer vacation extensive preparations and improvements are under way for the accommodation and comfort of the incoming students. At St. Mary's the physical and chemical laboratories have been greatly enlarged and several new classrooms fitted up.

INSTALLMENT DEALERS LOSE $20,000,000 YEARLY

NEW YORK, July 30.—The installment furniture dealers of the United States are in convention here to form a national association, one of the objects of which will be to keep track of undesirable customers. Raphael Levy of Philadelphia, who is presiding at the convention, asserted that the 5000 merchants who do the bulk of the installment furniture business in this country lose from ten to twenty million dollars a year as the result of the "skipping habit" of customers.

of the old soldier who defended this Republic.

"The first principle taught by the Grand Army is that of patriotism, and it is in the name of patriotism that I appeal to you. If this nation-wide organization has meant anything in the life of the organization, it has meant that the principles of patriotism are being taught to the children and of the people at large. It is because I feel that I have learned this lesson of patriotism that I am ready to take the platform in this campaign."

WHAT THE FLAG MEANS.
"The younger generation cannot realize in its full force the spirit that animated the men who went to the front in '61 and in the bitter years that followed. The flag that has waved undimmed and honored by all since the Civil War means more to us than that it does to the younger generation today. There was no I. W. W. wearing its anarchic head against the peace of the nation, and the enemies we faced in the men who wore the gray were honorable foes, whom we could respect, and not enemies in human form, as are these new enemies of our country and the civilization we have built up."

"Little did the men mustered out at the close of the war, as they marched in the grand uniform following those honorable and well-worshipped flags for which they have braved death, dream that in a brief 47 years there would arise in this land a body of men who would attack that flag, who would attempt to overthrow that government, who would rise in the ignorance against those liberties for which the soldiers of the Republic had fought so long and so courageously. Those men would not have tolerated for a moment this organization of enemies of society, but would have gone again into the field, there as they were from the long warfare, and would have rooted out this new treachery with sword and fire."

PEACE AND LIBERTY.
"The issue before you today is that of peace and liberty and justice against destruction and murder and license and chaos. The Industrial Workers of the World know no morals or religion. They scoff at patriotism and justice. They place their faith in brute force alone. The Industrial Workers came into Oakland bearing a red flag before them. They defied and defamed the Stars and Stripes, the flag that has been carried with honor through fire and blood for the principles of right. They spoke obscenities unbecomable upon our streets, and cast vile epithets at the fair name of womanhood."

"The city officials, if they were honorable men, if they had one spark of manhood left in them, had no reason to put down such an organization. All honor to them that they did so, and that they have not receded from the stand taken. If we uphold our city administration, as we must and shall, the I. W. W., with its nefarious propaganda, shall gain no foothold in the City of Oakland. But should we remain supine in the face of this wicked crew of anarchists, the Socialists, who came to the rescue of the Industrial Workers, and who based their recall upon the suppression of the I. W. W., will welcome the I. W. W. upon the streets of this city, will grant them every privilege and every license."

INSULTS FOR WOMEN.
"You know what that would mean. You know what it would mean to be placed at the mercy of these inhuman fiends who know neither morals nor religion, who have no country, no faith and no honor."

It will be impossible for a woman to walk upon the streets of Oakland without the probability of being insulted, of having her ears burned by the shouted indecencies of the I. W. W. speakers. The children and the women will be at the mercy of the pack of fiends in human form, and our city will become a byword and an object of contempt and derision."

"This is what victory for the recall forces would mean. I ask you whether you are willing to face such a contingency. If you are not, your plain duty is that of working hard against the recall. You must go to the polls, and you must see that your neighbor goes to the polls. The fate of the city is in the hands of the voters."

Robert M. Fitzgerald then explained the ballot and the correct way to mark it so that the I. W. W. forces may be repelled and the men who stand for the progress and prosperity of Oakland upheld in all that they have done and are doing for the advancement of the city.

While the band played "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," the exercises were brought to a conclusion.

RICHMOND SALOON MEN ORDERED TO OBEY LAW

RICHMOND, July 30.—The city council held its regular weekly session last night, taking up mostly routine matters. The principal thing of interest which came up was the evident intention of the council to make all saloon keepers of this city conform to the ordinances and obey the law strictly. Councilman Harnett of the license committee alleged that O. Done Meghetti, running a saloon on Railroad street, had been granted a license without complying with the law.

Also complained in three other cases, John Wylie, who conducts a saloon on Standard at corner, alleged it to be run by others while he works elsewhere. J. Fleming, conducting the American bar, is not a citizen and the license is owned by Agnes Kenna, John Kardlas of the Pullman bar is not a citizen. Councilman Harnett moved that all of these parties be cited to appear before the council next Monday night and show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

Considerable discussion was had regarding the needs of the city of a better water supply and the same was put over until the committee on that subject finish their investigations and submit a report.

INDIAN PICTURE ON AT THE BROADWAY

"Fall of Black Hawk" Is Film That Has Many Thrills.

"The Fall of Black Hawk" will be a two-reel feature at the Broadway this week. Incidents that led to the Black Hawk war and the signing of the treaty of 1830 are portrayed. After the first assault on the settlers in 1831, how the news reached Springfield, where Abraham Lincoln, with ax on shoulder, hears the news, is shown on the film. The volunteer company and what happened when they reported to General Scott is brought out in prominence. A glimpse of Mrs. Zachary Taylor and her two daughters is an interesting picture, as are the famous attack on Fort Crawford with burning flags, battering rams and finally the successful attack with the flaming arrows. The suffering inside the fort and finally the capture of Black Hawk after a blood-stirring battle with his toric touches that will grip both young and old is brought out with excellent effect. The regular vaudeville performance will be in conjunction with this great picture.

BRANDS FLY-PAPER AND CRACKERS LUXURIES

Lucy Cardosa did not think it extravagant to purchase 5 cents worth of fly paper, but according to her complaint for divorce, in the Superior court, this morning, her husband, Joseph Cardosa, thought fly paper was a luxury they could ill afford, and he also objected strenuously to his wife buying crackers for the children. On such occasions, the wife charges, that her husband threatened to kill her, and called her vile and abusive names. She asks for a division of small community property, and that two minor children be placed in an orphanage. The woman's suit is brought in retaliation of an action begun yesterday by her husband to restrain her from using community funds held in a San Leandro bank.

The latter filed an answer on cross complaint to Stralton's action and this morning Judge Graham granted her the divorce, allowed her $40 a month alimony and gave her the custody of their child.

MOTORMAN IS HELD BLAMELESS

Board of Inquiry Declares Motorcyclist Responsible for Accident.

The board of inquiry on the accident to W. J. McCourtney, who was seriously injured July 21 when the motorcycle on which he was riding was struck by an electric trolley at Sixth and Harrison streets, reports the following findings:

"At about 7:30 p. m. Sunday, July 21, Edward Houshewitz, 19 years of age, in charge of electric trolley No. 10, and Motorman William W. Wainwright, while passing Harrison street on the Sixth street line, was struck about 27 feet from the front of the leading car by a motorcycle driven by W. J. McCourtney, which was destroyed, driver very seriously injured, his right arm and leg shattered, and was taken to the receiving hospital.

"Evidence indicates this trolley was moving at about 15 miles per hour, and while momentarily out of sight Harrison street the motorman heard the exhaust and saw the wheel of a motorcycle close to the north side of his car. He applied the brakes in an effort to stop, but his three cars, which were being about 60 feet east of the trolley party, or 20 feet from the electric line of Harrison street. At about the same time D. Audker of 1670 Fourteenth street, riding an automobile east in advance of the train and was moving about 15 miles per hour, and hearing the exhaust of a motorcycle and thinking it was coming behind him, he heard the impact and stopped and looked around, and after the train had passed he ran back to where the injured man was lying. The range of vision of the motorcycle when approaching the east track of Seventh St. line when within 50 feet of said track would be approximately 400 feet, or an entire block of the trolley line. The approaching Harrison street about 50 feet.

"Board of inquiry after hearing all evidence of employees, and eye witnesses, viewing the ground and making demonstration with a motorcycle and train, and the employees of the Southern Pacific and the Southern Pacific Company are in no way responsible; that the accident was entirely due to the manner in which the motorcycle was operated. The air brakes and equipment on the train were in perfect condition."

The board of inquiry consisted of W. A. Noffsinger, merchant, Oakland, J. C. Downey, merchant, Oakland, W. H. Norton, Assistant Superintendent, W. C. Meyers, Assistant Master Merchant, D. A. Palmer, Assistant Division Engineer.

OAKLANDER WINS ALIMONY BATTLE

W. E. Sells Secures Reduction in Amount He Must Pay Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—W. E. Sells, an employee of the Oakland Light and Heat company, and residing at 8319 Neville street, Oakland, came out first best in Judge Graham's court, this morning, where he was cited to appear and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt for failing to pay his first wife $40 a month alimony. Mrs. Annie G. Sell, who was divorced by Superior Judge Sewell, some time ago, and given the custody of her two boys, aged 5 and 6 years, had complained that her former husband had not paid her any alimony for the past five months. Mrs. Sells number one is a school teacher, who resides at 443 Paris street, this city. She is in receipt of $35 a month, while Sells testified that he receives only $40, and three days after a final decree of divorce was granted he married. When asked why he had not paid the alimony he declared that he wanted the custody of his elder boy, and that Mrs. Sells had refused her consent to the arrangement. The court pondered deeply over the situation and then declared himself one-sided. He ordered that Mrs. Sells number one be reduced to $25 a month, and her alimony be reduced to $20 a month, and the amount was reduced to $15. He must, however, pay the $15 each month for the five months that he has been in arrears. He seemed satisfied with the verdict.

DALTON'S SUE FOR WATERFRONT LANDS

Asks $5000 Damages of Terminal Railways Company.

HONOLULU, July 30.—The Supreme court this morning rendered its decision in the case of Dalton vs. Terminal Railways Company. The court held that the company was liable for the damages claimed by Dalton for the loss of his waterfront property.

The court found that the company had acted negligently in allowing the waterfront property to be lost. The damages claimed by Dalton were $5000. The court awarded the damages to Dalton.

In addition to $5000 asked by the Daltons, they petition the court further to treble that amount and to award them $200 for every day the traction company is on their land.

TO SUE S. P. FOR 150,000 ACRES

Government Seeks to Reclaim Title to $500,000,000 Worth of Land.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—B. D. Townsend, special attorney for the department of justice in the government's suit against the Southern Pacific land titles in California and in Arizona, opened an office here today preparatory to filing a suit at Los Angeles attacking the titles of the railroad company and the Kern Trading and Oil Company, one of its subsidiary corporations.

The government will contend that the lands were obtained "through fraud and misrepresentation and by the abuse of the rights of the people and the government." Cancellation of the patents will be sought.

Attorney Townsend is gathering data for the prosecution of the government's suit to declare forfeited 2,200,000 acres of timber lands in Oregon, leased by the Southern Pacific from the Oregon & California railroad. It is contended that the law was violated in the sale of tracts greater than 160 acres to persons other than settlers. The federal court in Oregon has overruled the demurrer of the railroad to the government's complaint, forcing it to go to trial with the case on its merits.

The suit also will be brought to cancel the patents to 180 acres of oil lands in Kern county and 2000 acres of land near Mojave. Evidence is now being laid before an examiner.

The government's office will be in charge of W. J. Butler, a government land patent expert.

FAR EAST SEEKS AMERICAN JUSTICE

IF LACKED but the magical Carpet of Bagdad to transform the sufferer out of India to Hawaii this morning a peculiar mill of American justice to the glistering sands of Arabia. The tribes of the Prophet were there with a Musselman's plot to unravel; only the setting was absent.

Roshon Din, who is as Hindu as they make them, albeit he wears the clothes of the Occident, stroked his beard, murmured prayers and turned by the Moon he had always been a true and faithful husband to Mary Din. He had been arrested for failure to provide.

Hadij Tahar, who looks like a descendant of Omar Khayyam, but is really the son of the Sheikh of Yemen and Oman, ruler of Independent Arabia and 9,000,000 of the faithful, told the court that Mary was the "right of the desert," and that her husband was a "dog." Mary is the daughter of a wealthy Arab, and her husband was a "dog" who had been arrested for failure to provide.

It was Hadij Tahar who had procured his son-in-law's arrest, and it was the same Hadij Tahar who vowed that when his daughter said the complaint recited things that were not true, he had become feeble minded. Hadij Tahar might be a feeble minded man, but he is not only a powerful Arab, but he is also a powerful man in the court.

BEGIN WORK ON GREAT HIGHWAY

Surveyors Place Stakes for Part of "Wish-Bone" Road to San Jose.

HAYWARD, July 30.—Preliminary work on the so-called "Wishbone" street highway from Oakland to San Jose, a distance of more than 100 miles, was started this morning by surveyors.

Stakes were set for four miles and before the work is through the road will have been surveyed to the Santa Clara county line. A contract for $20,000 has already been let for a portion of the great highway at the San Francisco end. This will be advertised for within thirty days for the work at the Oakland end. The expenditure for the $15,000,000 recently voted for state highways.

SYSTEM OF FIXING PRICES LAID BARE

Sugar "Trust" Case Again Brings Robert Oxnard to Stand.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—An outline of the systems of fixing the price of sugar at different seasons and under different conditions, territorial divisions for the marketing of the cane and beet sugar refinery product and the efforts of the independent companies to maintain their place in the market against the opposition of the sugar trust, was the substance of the testimony of Robert Oxnard, head of the American Beet Sugar Company before Special Examiner Bruce in the hearing here today of the government's suit to dissolve the sugar combine.

Letters said to have passed between H. O. Havermeyer and Oxnard and between Oxnard and sugar brokers regarding sugar prices were introduced in evidence by Assistant United States Attorney General G. H. Door. Many of the letters and several telegrams were identified by the witness. They were upon employment previously developed and caused the morning session of the inquiry to drag slowly.

All of the letters and messages were placed in the record by the strong objections of the attorneys for the defendants.

AID IN FINANCING. It developed during the testimony of Oxnard that James G. Hamilton, a capitalist of New York was one of the organizers of the American Beet Sugar Company and materially assisted in financing the merger of all of Oxnard's plants and those of the Havermeyer operations in the early nineties.

On cross-examination, Attorney Peter F. Dunne represented the Western Sugar Refining Company, brought out the fact that the husbanding of the product of the Oxnard beet sugar refineries during the months of July, August and September, which subsequently went to the western markets and into the Missouri river territory in no way interfered with the sale of overstock of the New Orleans refineries which was put out from the first of October until the first of January.

The witness described in detail the division of territory in which the Oxnard products were marketed and explained the conditions that controlled prices. Oxnard said that it was a basic fact in the sugar business that freight rates were the prime factors in fixing the prices.

TO SEEK OPIUM ON PACIFIC SHIPS

Officials Believe Smugglers Have Been Scared From Siberia.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Continued search of the liner Siberia has failed to reveal contraband opium, and customs officials believe that the leaders of the smuggling ring, thwarted too many times in their attempt to bring contraband to this port on the Siberia, have decided to transfer their principal operations to others of the transpacific liners.

It developed today that a portion of the opium crew of the Siberia had been discharged in the Orient because the Asiatic were suspected by the steamship officials of being agents of the smugglers. The vacancies were filled and the Siberia proceeded to this port, arriving here last Sunday. Since then the searching squad has been combing the liner from stern to bow.

Every effort has been made to detect false paneling, hollow beams and other devices known to smugglers; but so far not a trace of the drug has been revealed.

Lossing his Chinese agents on board the Siberia and capturing the heavy concentrations of opium this year the government, the leaders of the opium ring are supposed to have decided to allow the Siberia to come here without contraband. Customs officials have been thinking the smugglers planned to throw the government officials off their guard by not continuing opium on the Siberia and then to come back with a new plan.

However, after long searching port is given a close scrutiny and the searching squad will have no chance at being beaten by the smugglers.

MAJOR TOMPKINS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife, Who Elope With Former Convict, Asks for Decree.

The final chapter in the domestic tragedy which followed Major John W. Tompkins, former state warden in San Quentin penitentiary, his beautiful wife, Mrs. Emma Allan Tompkins and W. F. Gordon, ex-convict with whom she eloped, has been written in a divorce suit filed in the superior court of Alameda county.

The complaint shows that Major Tompkins, who took his wife back when she repented of her elopement with Gordon, found himself unable to cope with the specter of the past and finally left his wife, taking up his residence at 1225 Third street, Alameda. This was in January, 1910, four months after the wife had returned to his home and to his arms.

"I never loved her," Gordon said. "I still live only for my beloved and my son."

It was two years ago, when Mrs. Tompkins, at student and society woman, started her friends by looking her husband out of their home in Piedale and disappearing.

A month later she was found living in an apartment house in San Francisco. Gordon was left a ruined man, passing a lonely life in the city and the country.

The divorce suit just filed, shows that the attempt of both parties to bridge the gulf between them failed. Mrs. Tompkins seeks to have restored to her the maiden name of Allan.

FATHER FOUND DEAD. Her father, John Allan was one of the pioneer stage drivers of the Pacific coast. He was found dead in the estuary one day and it was never determined exactly how he came to his death.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins say that there will be no sensational court proceedings. Tompkins will not contest the case.

The couple were married twenty-three years ago and they had a happy life until Tompkins' death. Tompkins was a well-known man in the city and the country.

When Gordon's term expired, Mrs. Tompkins blamed her husband for bringing her into such close contact with convicts. She claimed that prisoners were her friends and that Major Tompkins gave her no relief.

She insisted that her friendship for Gordon was only platonic and that she could get no sympathy from anyone else. Gordon was finally arrested under the name of William Winters, charged by A. Jacobs, an Oakland tailor, with passing a fictitious check. It was discovered that he was also wanted by the police of San Diego.

EXPLAINS HER CASE. When seen today at her home, 3705 Fourth street, Mrs. Tompkins said: "My husband left me a short time after our trouble two years ago, and I have seen him but a few times since, as he has not lived in our home, which belongs to me. I filed papers for a divorce today on the ground of desertion. He left me with no explanation and it is simply a case of desertion. We have had no unpleasantness and there will be no trouble, as the case will be settled out of court. I understand that Mrs. Tompkins will not contest the suit and everything will be settled quietly."

Tompkins, who is living at 3226 Fruitvale avenue, said: "I left my wife a year ago last February, long after our first trouble. When I heard that she was going to start divorce proceedings, I told her that she could have her divorce. I will make no trouble and will not contest the case, because of our boy."

John W. Lyndon, founder of Town of Los Gatos, Is Dead.

SAN JOSE, July 30.—John W. Lyndon, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of Santa Clara county, died suddenly at his home in Los Gatos this morning, probably of heart disease. He was practically the founder and builder of Los Gatos, where he had resided continuously forty-three years.

He was the proprietor of the Lyndon hotel and largely interested in many public enterprises. He was a native of Vermont, aged 76, and leaves a widow and two children.

SPOUSE'S LETTERS AND HOT WEATHER END

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—"After the hot weather is over," wrote Clarence O. Burnside to his wife, Minnie, he would send her money to leave San Francisco and join him in Douglas, Ariz., where he is a resident.

During the "warm spell," Burnside wrote home regularly and his letters were all of a happy nature. He had a good job and they would be so happy when he arrived. As in other years the hot weather died out in Arizona and with it Burnside's letters. No more he wrote to his wife, she said. He even refused to answer her letters.

Then in the fall of 1910 came a short note. It contained advice to the wife that each had better go his and her own way. Burnside said he had a good position, but was drinking himself to death. He said he was not happy and he was in the life he was leading and intended to keep up.

So after waiting two more years and burning that the husband is still on the board road to the grave but not dead, she asks the court to grant her a divorce and alimony, according to her station in life.

BIDS FOR HARBOR WORK SUBMITTED

Contracts Soon to Be Awarded for Deepening of Channel.

Bids for the work of deepening the inner harbor east of the Harrison street bridge have all been submitted to the government and they will probably be opened some time in the near future. During the past few weeks a number of government engineers from the engineering department of the United States have been taking soundings of the channel between the Harris street bridge on the west and the Park street bridge on the east and although no official figures have as yet been given out the channel was found to be too narrow and shallow in places to accommodate the steamers and sailing vessels to come with the opening of the city's eastern waterfront docks and wharves.

The contract for the deepening of the channel will be awarded to the lowest bidder. The work will be done by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

ORDER PAYMENT OF POLICE PENSION

Three Warrants for $333.33 to Be Drawn on Treasury.

In final settlement of the $1000 pension due the estate of the late John Scanlon, former police officer of this city, the board of trustees of the police relief and pension fund, comprised of Mayor Mott and Commissioners Forrest and Turner, today ordered warrants for $333.33 each on the city treasury drawn in favor of Miss Theresa Scanlon, Mrs. Louis B. Edes and Mrs. Mary O'Neil, sisters of the deceased.

The warrants will be issued in conformity with a recent order of the Superior court which divided the pension money among the three women in order to establish a precedent. Miss Mott brought a friendly suit against Theresa Scanlon and her sisters. Miss Scanlon laid claim to the entire pension as her brother died a bachelor. The other two women also put in claims for a portion of the amount.

DARROW REFUTES FRANKLIN'S ACCUSATIONS

Paper Dated Day Before Alleged Incriminating Evidence.

Opposing Counsel Battles In Court Over Attorney's Testimony.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Refutation of one of the most damaging accusations of Bert H. Franklin—that Clarence S. Darrow had first talked with him about bribing jurors on October 5, 1911, and had given him a check for that purpose on the following day—was furnished by the defendant when he resumed the stand today in his trial for alleged bribery.

It was in the form of a cancelled check dated October 4, 1911, the day before the alleged incriminating conversation and two days before the date Franklin testified to receiving the check. The check introduced into evidence bore the endorsement of Franklin.

Darrow continued his assault on the testimony of Franklin, flatly denying that he had ever conferred with the detective concerning the corruption of juror Robert F. Bain. Franklin had testified to lengthy conversations on this subject charging that the question of bribing Bain had been thoroughly discussed by himself and Darrow.

CHECK FOR EXPENSES
The check given Franklin, according to Darrow, was for services and expenses of the detective and had been requested for these purposes by Franklin.

Darrow was the magnet which drew hundreds to the Hall of Records through the first time since the trial began. Women spectators were not permitted to sit within the bar enclosure. Judge Hutton complained yesterday of the levity shown in by those sitting inside the rail and today's order of exclusion was the result. Most of those who have occupied the seats were friends or sympathizers of the defendant.

The defendant first began to relate the incidents surrounding the selection of Bain when the prosecution introduced objections to the narrative form in which Darrow was testifying.

FREDERICKS TESTIFIES.
Captain Fredericks protested against what he asserted was a speech by the defendant. He asked that Darrow be treated as any other witness instead of being allowed to make a running statement or a speech. A violent controversy followed between counsel through which the defendant sat smiling and unconcerned.

Chief Counsel Rogers of the defense charged that the prosecution was trying to continue the case, to break up the continuity of Darrow's testimony, which he designated as "rotten and wrong."

The witness said that Bain had been the subject of frequent conferences between McNamara counsel and Franklin during the long period he occupied the seat in the jury box.

"From my examination of him and Franklin's reports I thought Bain would make a good juror for us," said Darrow. "He had testified that he had helped organize the first union in Los Angeles and he impressed me as a man whose sympathies were with the working classes. It was men of this sort we tried to get as jurors."

DENIES ALL CHARGES.
Portions of Franklin's testimony containing accusations against Darrow were read by Rogers, and in each instance the witness flatly denied the charge. He also denied that he had ever known Frank Fowler alleged by A. J. Krueger to have sought to bribe him as a McNamara juror and that he had ever known of any negotiations between Franklin and Krueger.

Darrow denied that he had ever instructed any employee of the defense to telephone to prospective jurors considered unfavorable to the defense, telling them how they could avoid service. He said Judge Woodward had called his attention to the fact that a juror had notified him of a telephone call and had asked him to warn him against such methods. He said he had done so.

Talking up the alleged bribery of Lockwood, the charge upon which Darrow was on trial he denied that he had ever dis-curse the corruption of Lockwood with Franklin or that of anyone else.

"Did you ever give Franklin $4000 on the morning of November 28?" asked Rogers.

"I did not," was the emphatic reply. "Did you see Franklin that morning?"

"I did not until he was arrested. 'Did you see Job Harriman that day?' 'I did not.'"

The defendant then denied that he had called Harriman on the telephone that morning as testified by Franklin. He made similar denials to every point in Franklin's story which involved him in any way.

Darrow then entered into a lengthy narration of his movements on November 28 and the preceding day.

The narration was punctuated frequently by denials of statements made by Franklin and other "witnesses." The witness gave a graphic description of the arrest of Franklin which he viewed, arriving at the scene, he said, accidentally while on the way to the Harriman office.

"I was very much shocked," he said. "I didn't know what to do. I left the scene and went to the building where the examination of jurors was in progress and on the way I met Franklin and Detective Brown." Darrow said the conversation with Brown as related by the latter on the witness stand was substantially correct, but he denied making any promise to Brown for doing "the best he could."

"I was more impressed at the time," he said, "with the possible effect of the arrest on the settlement negotiations. I never dreamed that such a thing could occur. It seemed impossible to me."

TWEETMOE CHECK.

The check for $10,000 which he gave O. A. Tweetmoe and which the latter cashed in San Francisco, was not used for any corrupt purpose, but was given to Tweetmoe to defray expenses of the McNamara case in that city, according to the witness.

Tweetmoe had told him he said upon his first visit to San Francisco, that organized there had expended between $25,000 and $30,000 for the McNamara defense.

"Tweetmoe asked me to reimburse them," said Darrow, "and I told him I would do what I could. Every time I went to San Francisco he asked me about it."

"About September 2 I was in San Francisco and gave him a check for $10,000. I told him he could take it and use it for needed expenses. There was more investigation up there at the time than

Twenty-Two Horses Burned to Death When
Flames Destroy $12,000 in Property

Roused from their sleep early this morning by the roar of flames and the screams of burning horses, Mrs. M. J. Brock and her daughter, living at No. 1505 Kirkham street, rushed from their residence to find that the American Creamery company's stables, adjoining the house, a mass of flame. Practically identical was the experience of Mrs. J. H. Ward, who lived in a cottage adjoining the stables on the other side.

The stables were totally destroyed and the company lost in addition twenty-two horses, three wagons, sixty tons of hay and all the harness and other accessories in the place. The Brock house is a total loss, while the Ward cottage is but slightly damaged.

People living in the neighborhood say that an alarm was not turned in until the blaze had made such headway that the roof was ready to fall in. The gongs of the engines responding to the call roused many residents along the street, who were unaware of their peril, and they poured out into the open clad in their night clothes.

By the time the engine arrived several men had removed some of the wagons and were attempting to get the terrified horses from the blazing structure. The time consumed in getting the wagons out allowed the fire too much headway and the horses were too far back in the building to get at. The roof collapsed and the sixty tons of hay in the loft buried the animals.

The loss sustained by the creamery company is estimated at $8000, while the insurance amounts to $5000. Mrs. Brock's building was valued at $4000 and was only partially covered by the insurance.

'I KILLED LANDIS ALONE,'
CONFESSES WM. CLEMENT

Slayer Exonerates Suspects But Redding
Police Doubt Story

REDDING, Cal., July 30.—William Clement, arraigned here today for the murder of William C. Landis, who killed Burns, was very busy in San Francisco and the labor leaders interested in the McNamara defense were under a heavy expense in caring for witnesses and other purposes.

NEVER SAW MONEY.

"The check was given Tweetmoe for those purposes and no other, and it was cashed by him and Cleveland Lamm, attorney for the Building Trades Council. I never saw any of the money."

Asked about the statement of John R. Harrington that he had displayed a roll of bills said to contain $10,000 and had remarked that it was to be used to "bribe" jurors, Darrow made an emphatic denial of any such conversation.

The defense then called attention to the fact that a month after Darrow was alleged to have $10,000 in currency, he had given Bert Franklin, according to the latter's testimony, a check for $1000 to bribe Juror Bain.

Clement's mother, Mrs. W. C. Bradford, completely exonerated the two other men accused with him, in his confession, the full text of which was made public today for the first time by District Attorney Chenoweth, when the three appeared for a preliminary examination. Dan Thompson and Marcus A. Griffith are the other men accused.

Landis, a small mining town near Redding, shot and killed Mrs. Bradford May 31, after an altercation growing out of a disagreement over business matters. Landis was shot from ambush and killed July 18, while driving from Redding to Buckeye, Clement later confessing to having committed the crime.

CLEARERS OTHERS ACCUSED.

His statement is in part, as follows: "I want to say that I am the man who did the job. I shot W. G. Landis and nobody else who was arrested was implicated in any way. I shot for him. I bought the gun from Griffith a long time ago and paid him money for it. I bought it since the killing of my mother. It must have been in the month of June, that I bought it. Griffith bought it in Redding June 11."

"After I shot Landis I took the gun to Griffith. It had been there all the time. He was home when I took it back. I did not tell Griffith anything about having shot Landis, as I stated before, he is absolutely innocent of any connection with this proposition."

LAI D MURDER PLANS.
"When I bought the gun from Griffith I had in mind this affair in a way—that is, I had decided that if Landis tried any more of his monkey business with me I would surely kill him. I don't tell Griffith what I had in mind."

Clement explained that he had returned to Griffith's after the shooting and then had gone to his home.

son what he had in mind. "I don't recall that I was ashamed of it," he continued. "I know how my mother was murdered and I killed the man and that is all there is to it. I am guilty and I am willing to acknowledge it. I don't want to see an innocent man punished for anything I have done. Neither Griffith nor Thompson, and what I was going to do prior to my killing."

District Attorney Chenoweth said he had gathered much important evidence tending to incriminate Clement's statement that he alone was concerned in the crime and that he expected that the preliminary examination will continue three days.

WRINKLE-KILLER
CASE CONTINUED

Beauty Doctor Will Have
Chance to Tell Her Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Mrs. Louise Panaroul repeated her story of the merits of the "Ten-minute Wrinkle Remover" designed to make old women appear young on the witness stand in Judge Sullivan's court today. She gave the details of her alleged purchase of a half interest in the beauty parlor at 168 Geary street, from Miss Gertrude Poma and exhibited a contract drawn up by her husband and showing the arrangements of the sale.

A large crowd listened with interest to her story that the white of eggs contained the necessary virtue with which to eradicate wrinkles.

Mrs. Panaroul was represented by her own attorney who prosecuted the action and Miss Poma whose name is said to be Mrs. Gertrude Koarmer was on hand with her husband and her counsel.

The court listened intently to the version of the story as told by the complaining witness and then continued the case until next Saturday, when the beauty doctor herself will be given an opportunity to explain her side of the case.

BLANKET APPEAL
MEETS OPPOSITION

Attorney General Wickersham
Objects to Proposed Ruling.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Attorney General Wickersham has advised Congress that he does not approve any proposition to give shippers a blanket right of appeal to the commerce court from all so-called negative rulings of the interstate commerce commission. He favors appeals only from such decisions as involve questions of law.

The appeal should be only when the commission declines a tariff because of its supposed want of jurisdiction. The lawful power of the interstate commerce commission to act in premises should the attorney-general says be determined by a court.

"I don't recall that I was ashamed of it," he continued. "I know how my mother was murdered and I killed the man and that is all there is to it. I am guilty and I am willing to acknowledge it. I don't want to see an innocent man punished for anything I have done. Neither Griffith nor Thompson, and what I was going to do prior to my killing."

HIGH LIVING IS THE CAUSE OF
HIGH COST

Senator Burton Declares Military Burden Is Almost Unendurable.

Luxuries of Last Generation Are Considered Necessities He Declares.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Senator Burton of Ohio explained to the Senate today his opinion as to the cause of the present high cost of living. The manifest and important causes, he said, were the phenomenal progress of recent years the striking inequality of this progress in different lines of human endeavor and the tendencies to extravagance and waste and to diminished productive energy by a large part of the population.

"Neither the Payne-Aldrich tariff law nor any other similar law was responsible for the general high prices," he declared, "for the variations in prices have been so very considerable both in the way of increase and decrease, as absolutely to disprove any inference that the change in prices has been due to the tariff of 1909 or to any other tariff act."

EXONERATES TRUSTS.
He exonerated the "trusts" and "large combinations of capital" declaring that a complete monopoly in any particular article affords a chance to increase its price but that the same result is brought about when separate producers maintain an agreement as to prices.

"One of the serious influences tending to increase prices," he asserted, "is that of price agreements of various sorts. It was one of the purposes of the Sherman anti-trust act to prevent practices of this sort, but it has been a little doubtful that this practice still continues."

Another device resorted to to eliminate competition, he declared, was that of "hiding behind the patent right." He referred to a recent supreme court decision, under which the "user of a patent article may be required to buy supplies of a certain make and pay the price imposed."

ADVANCE IN TASTES.
The senator said "that the conveniences and luxuries of one generation are regarded as necessities in the next. Even in humble homes a standard of living is established which is beyond the fondest hope entertained by generations that have scarcely passed away."

Better homes food and clothing the desire for a wider outlook which is attended by a higher education, and the constant demand for leisure and amusement were elements, he said, which were adding to the burden of life on the cost side, although aiding it in many other ways. He quoted figures showing a marked increase in consumption of staple articles, such as cotton, corn, sugar and so on, and then added that expenditures for luxuries showed a much higher percentage of increase.

The rapidly growing cost of government—national, state and municipal—was adding to the cost of life, he said, the expenditure of the government having increased greatly.

WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.
"These must be added," Senator Burton added, "to the oppressive burden of military and naval armaments, none of which is a necessary expenditure, none of $2,000,000,000 a year, an economic waste which imposes an almost unendurable burden upon the world's resources. The expense of the naval establishment of the United States for the year 1910 was $22,006,286 in 1910 it was $23,713,717."

As to increase in municipal taxation rates he quoted from New York City statistics showing that the per capita tax rate there had increased 71 per cent from 1890 to 1910.

Speaking of the "unequal progress of the different lines of endeavor that supply human wants," Senator Burton said: "It is evident that science working through invention and improved methods has accomplished the same result in agriculture as in manufactures. Although considerable progress has been made in the transportation of agricultural products and preserving them for use, the transportation and intelligently handled earlier than the food products. The improvements have been very considerable, but have wrought no such revolution such as has been manifest in many processes of manufacture."

The increasing supply of lumber in the face of the unusual demand, he continued, has caused a rapid and continuous increase in the price of products of the forest.

As to extravagance and waste he declared that it was an inevitable tendency in every progressive era.

EXPLOSION IN POWDER MILL.
CLEVELAND, July 30.—An explosion in one of the three magazines in the plant of the Austin Powder Company, near here, shortly after 7 o'clock today is reported to have caused the death of three men. Serious property damage is also reported.

Despicable "Non-Residence" Boycott is Tardily Fought By Mayor.

Greater San Francisco Association Would Draw Lines Tighter.

EDITOR TRIBUNE Mayor Rolph is reported to have decided that the San Francisco school board rule requiring teachers employed in the department to reside in that city must be repealed. He is said also to disapprove the policy adopted by many San Francisco merchants making residence there an essential condition of the retention in service of their employees. He is reported to be holding the broader view that employees of San Francisco business firms should be permitted to reside anywhere they wish within the so-called metropolitan area around the bay.

It is rather late in the day for even Mayor Rolph to now advocate this change of policy, which was inaugurated in a modified form a few months after the calamity of April, 1906. Since then it has been carried to the extreme of boycotting firms employing non-residents for the past three years it has been the fixed policy of the Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association which is now, through its paid agents, openly advocating the discharge of non-resident employees.

The change of residence from the east bay shore cities to San Francisco in order to retain their places. Two letters urging upon employers a heart-to-heart talk with their non-resident employees on this subject have recently appeared one in the San Francisco Post, signed by "W. C. Sharpstein of Alameda," an active agent of the association, and the other in the Monitor, signed "U. S. Parsons, Berkeley."

WOULD TIGHTEN LINES.
So, while Mayor Rolph is opposing the abandonment of the foolish and unfriendly policy of the exclusion from employment in San Francisco of persons residing in east bay shore cities, whose good will (not their enmity) is especially desirable at the present time, the Greater San Francisco Association is insisting that the lines of exclusion be drawn tighter. Here is a fine example of the ingratitude returned by San Francisco for the asylum and succor in the time of direct distress which Oakland and other east bay shore cities gave for months after April, 1906, to 250,000 of its destitute citizens and the help they gave its merchants to save their business from utter ruin and a chance to get on their feet again.

The opportunities opened to the east bay shore cities to retaliate for this display of ingratitude are overlooked. However, these cities never stooped to the degraded plane of "Residence" or "Non-Residence" boycott against those they fed and sheltered and helped rehabilitate because they refused to make their own homes here. The Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association is granted a complete monopoly of the despicable policy of non-resident exclusion, persecution and intimidation.

SILENT ON THIS POLICY.
It is worth noting, however, that Mayor Rolph has been silent until now on the policy of non-employment of non-residents in San Francisco through the years it has been systematically (and with barely any concealment) carried out, although he undoubtedly knew it and had frequent opportunity to protest against it. Now that the policy is antagonizing the good will of the east bay shore cities existing opposition in the so-called metropolitan area to San Francisco's insane ambition to dismember four contiguous counties and swallow nearly thirty of their towns and cities, with all they possess, to gratify its greed for fame, power and pelf and menacing the success of the exposition of 1915, he suddenly raises his voice against it.

If Mayor Rolph is sincere in his desire to bring about a better feeling between San Francisco and the east bay shore cities against whose integrity it has been long conspiring, and the control of whose growing commerce commercial interests and their revenues the bonding capacity contained in their almost unnumbered assessment rolls, and the opportunity to unload on them the enormous burden of $62,801,700 of its authorized but unissued bond indebtedness, it would let him show his sincerity by using his great personal and official influence to recall San Francisco's position for an initiative constitutional amendment in which is embodied all of these unfriendly and larcenous signs on them and their resources. Nothing short of such a recall at once will suffice.

RICHMOND ELKS WILL BEGIN BUILDING OCT. 1

RICHMOND, July 29. — Several hours were spent by the building committee of the Elks' Hall association, last evening, in planning for the new three-story building which the organization is to erect this fall on their recently purchased property at Twelfth street and Macdonald avenue. Sunday morning the committee is to receive pen and ink sketches of the proposed building, in which four architects are competing. The ground breaking ceremonies will take place October 1. The association already has an offer for a long lease on the ground floor of the building from a big dry goods store coming here from Oakland with a large branch establishment. The second and third stories are to be devoted to lodge and club rooms and everything along those lines of the most modern and up-to-date nature.

Next Monday evening the lodge, which is growing rapidly, will hold its large class of new members and enjoy a social session and banquet. The building association is stocked for $75,000, and nearly all of it is subscribed for now.

Vaughn from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in reference to a letter written by Jimmie Moore, for the city council, asking the company to aid in the beautification of the city, the company states that while its present poles are serviceable for some years to come it is willing to reconstruct its lines and poles in co-operation and conformity with the city's wishes, provided the Oakland Terminal Railway company, which also uses the poles for its street railway trolley, would stand half of the cost. ALAMEDA BEAUTY BRIDE OF HERBERT A. BRUNTSCH

MRS. SHANNON RICHARDS BRUNTSCH, who became bride of HERBERT A. BRUNTSCH of Alameda in Sacramento yesterday.

ALAMEDA, July 29. — Choosing Sacramento for their wedding, Herbert Brunsch and his bride, Shannon Richards, beautiful, young, gifted and a widow, were married yesterday afternoon at the wedding they sent brief telegrams to their respective families telling of the wedding and then started on their honeymoon journey which will probably be spent in the Sierras.

The news of the wedding caused great surprise to the relatives though it was known that Brunsch had paid assiduous court to the beautiful young widow for a year or more. No engagement announcement was made and no hint of wedding plans escaped from the lovers. Brunsch is the son of Mrs. Clementine Brunsch of 2180 Central avenue. His family is one of the best known in Alameda. He is a brother of Mrs. Teresa Dudley, a bride of a few weeks who was Miss Teresa Brunsch, a popular society maid of this city. He is also the brother of Miss Margaret Brunsch who has won fame abroad as an opera singer. Brunsch is secretary and treasurer of the American Development Company, a San Francisco concern which deals extensively in lands in different parts of California.

Brunsch's bride was Miss Shannon

Moore before her first marriage to Dr. Henry Richards in Chicago. She is a southern girl, though her mother, Mrs. Emily P. Moore is a Californian and the daughter of the late J. M. Lockhart of San Francisco mint fame and founder and early owner of the California Wire Works. Lockhart left a large fortune for his heirs.

Mrs. Moore and her daughter have made their home in Alameda for four years, living at 2240 Central avenue. The bride is a vivacious and beautiful blonde and talented musically. She is 24 years of age and Brunsch is a few years her senior. She was born in Tennessee. Her father, who died 20 years ago, was a member of a leading southern family who were known widely as extensive plantation owners. The bride is a sister of Dr. William J. Moore of Oakland.

Mrs. Moore, the bride's mother, said this morning: "I knew the two were lovers and expected to hear about their wedding plans most any time but I did not expect that the wedding would take place so soon and I was considerably surprised to receive a telegram last night saying the two were married in Sacramento." Brunsch and his bride will make their home in this city.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29. — Superior Judge Trabucco of Mariposa county, sitting in Department 6, this morning, overruled the demurrer interposed by counsel for Jimmie Lawlor, accused of white slavery. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the appeal of the former day keeper, under a sentence of six months for battery, was heard by Superior Judge Sargent, Department 11. Both accusations were made by Ada Brange Brunsch. The year, Mrs. Walsh was prominent in society in Colorado and Chicago.

PROBES CHARGES AGAINST SALOONS

Widow of Brandt to Apply for License; Mills Case is Still Pending.

ALAMEDA, July 29. — Before a packed lobby last night, the Alameda city council in special session took up the charges against two local saloons with the result that the complaint against the Brandt saloon at Webster street and Lombard street, owned by J. N. Hill, was dismissed, and the charges of the police department against the saloon at 10th and Broadway, owned by J. C. Mills, were continued. The council, with instructions to advise further and report back to the council.

The Brandt matter was handled with dispatch. It was a few minutes after 8 o'clock when City Clerk Browning announced the objects for which the meeting had been called. He then proceeded to read the charges preferred by Hill. After the reading the mayor inquired if the complaining witness, Hill, was in the lobby. Hill's name was called, but he had not arrived.

Councilman J. J. Probst arose and stated that inasmuch as the complaining witness was not present he moved that the charges be dropped. The motion was seconded by Councilman John Walker and carried. The mayor announced that the charges were dropped. Hill arrived a few minutes later.

CHARGE AGAINST SALOONMAN.

The case against Edwin C. Mills was then called. Sergeant Al Kamp testified that he had visited the saloon and found that a side room leading to Enclinal avenue was in connection with the bar, in violation of the ordinance. He said that he had called the attention of Mills to this fact and that Mills had closed up the room. Kamp said that he did not see any women drinking in the room.

Morgenstern thereupon took the floor and asked Mills several questions, among them whether or not the side room was used for the purpose of serving liquor to women. He said that he had done so in the past.

To this the saloonman replied that on occasions he had done so, but that he was not aware that there was a provision against it. He stated that he had been informed by Sergeant Kamp that his place was being operated in violation of the ordinance, he promptly closed up the room.

Councilman William Hammond Jr. thereupon moved that Mills be required to close up the room and that the case be continued until the next meeting. The motion was seconded by Councilman Probst.

LIQUOR SOLD TO WOMEN.

Leo Robinson, who was in the audience, thereupon addressed the council. He stated that the saloon of Mills was conducted with a side room for the purpose of serving liquor to women. He said that he had done so in the past and that he had been informed by Sergeant Kamp that his place was being operated in violation of the ordinance, he promptly closed up the room.

Councilman Hammond then stated that in view of the complaint of Robinson and later developments, he would move that the case be continued until the next meeting. The motion was seconded by Councilman Probst.

STATEMENT BY ST. SURE.

One of the side incidents of the inquiry was when Mills stated that City Attorney St. Sure had been in his saloon and had told him that everything was all right. St. Sure immediately arose and asked to be sworn. He said that he had never been in the saloon with Mr. Mills, the saloon, the arrangement of the law with reference to the operation of saloons, or of side rooms for women. He had no conversation with him upon the subject in any form or in any way. The only time he had been in the saloon was when he had been called there by the police to investigate the case. He said that he had been in the saloon on other business, and that he had been in the saloon on other business, and that he had been in the saloon on other business.

BERKELEY WILL HAVE HEARING IN S. P. CASE

MAX THELEN.

BERKELEY, July 29. — The efforts of this city to secure a depot on the main line of the Southern Pacific Company in West Berkeley, extending over a period of several years, will culminate in a hearing before the railroad commission at the city council chambers the evening of August 15. Commissioners Max Thelen and Alexander Gordon will conduct the hearing. This date was set by the council this morning.

West Berkeley station at Corbin was for several years merely a stopping point for local trains between here and San Francisco. Four years ago this station was abandoned and the line was extended to the city. The company declined to stop.

Backed by numerous complaints this year from citizens, the council renewed its request with regard to the overland trains. The company still declining, on the ground that the Sixteenth street station was available and that the number of passengers who would use the West Berkeley stop would not be considerable, the council laid the matter before the railroad commission.

The council's request for a depot on University avenue instead of three blocks north, the street car service connecting only on the former street. The company's answer recently filed declares that the depot would cost too much to build in proportion to the number of people it could accommodate. A letter received from the commission asking for a hearing on August 15 was presented in council meeting this morning and acted upon favorably.

DESPERATE YOUTH CHASED BY POSSE

Arley Weaver Threatens to Kill Those on His Trail.

SAN JOSE, July 30. — Armed with 200 rounds of ammunition, two rifles and a shotgun, and making his way into the wildest part of the Santa Cruz mountains, Arley Weaver, 23 years of age, last night terrorized the farmers in the vicinity of Saratoga, while a posse of officers headed by Sheriff Arthur B. Laneferd, is endeavoring to overtake the fugitive.

Weaver is wanted on a felony charge and yesterday afternoon made his escape from Constable E. C. Stumper of Saratoga while he was being taken from the courtroom of Justice of the Peace Martin Kane following his arraignment on a charge of abduction.

Amplified to withstand a battle with the officers and with enough provisions to last him at least three days, Weaver was last seen by two farmers near the town of Saratoga, where he was spotted and making his way across country into the mountains back of Saratoga. His objective point is believed to be Boulder Creek, where he has relatives and is well known.

Weaver was arrested on a felony charge sworn to by his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver, who charged him with having enticed her sixteen-year-old daughter, Esther Weaver, from her home and taken her to a house of questionable reputation in San Francisco.

Weaver heard of the intention of his aunt to bring the charge against him and Sunday night went to the home in the hills back of Saratoga and with a revolver threatened to exterminate the entire family unless they promised not to have him arrested. Early yesterday morning Mrs. Weaver charged her nephew before Justice of the Peace Martin Kane and he was arrested at the residence of C. C. Bell and taken to the courtroom where he was arraigned. It was then that he made his escape.

He has been an energetic Alameda booster for many years, having owned the Central block on Park street, as well as other valuable properties.

Delaney will probably be opposed by a candidate representing the present city hall administration. Councilman William Hammond Jr. has been frequently mentioned as the administration's choice for mayor though it has also been reported that he will not enter the fight.

Councilman Fred L. Krumb and Councilman Alfred L. Morganstern are again candidates for the assembly. He was a member of the assembly for a number of years ago.

The second number of the Chronicle deals with "Education in the Philippines" by John Arnold, of the class of 1912, now American consul at Manila. Dr. Arthur W. Hyder publishes translations of verses of the poet, Rihana, who lived in the Kashmir in the 13th century, together with explanatory notes at the beginning of each.

Mr. Faversham's address on "The Theatricals as a Power" delivered at the Theatre in April, is also printed in the Chronicle. A large audience interested in Mr. Faversham, and who had seen him in "The Power" attended this lecture.

RECEIVE BIDS FOR AUTOMOBILES FOR CITY

BERKELEY, July 29. — Bids for reader automobiles for use of the municipal department for combustion hose and chemical automobile were received this morning by the City Council and referred to Committee E. F. Norton. Complaints of the West Berkeley Improvement Club against the city in the end of the city were referred to the police commissioner. Several ordinances received their final passage in the city hall, special assistants in the assessors, treasurer and auditor offices, and clerks in the various departments and for employees of the playground commission.

BERKELEY SOCIETY

BERKELEY, July 29. — Miss Alma Haight, well known in Berkeley medical circles, and a graduate of the University of California, became the bride of Rev. Dr. Estey Cassell Boyd at a ceremony performed this afternoon in Chicago. Miss Haight first met her fiance when he was a student at Stanford. She came to the coast following her graduation from the Channing Medical studios in Detroit, and entered the university. Miss Haight was identified with musical organizations of Berkeley and was organist at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. W. M. Billings returned Sunday evening from a fishing and hunting trip in Northern California. Dr. Billings has been away a month. He was in the mountains of Mendocino county. Miss Clara Freuler has returned to Berkeley from a visit of six weeks in Los Angeles. Miss Freuler is a well known musician and was entertained extensively in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Giulio Minetti have a cottage at San Rafael for the season.

The instruments of this Company I consider the finest in the world in tone, action and durability, and I use

Fall Assortments —of— Men's Suits Now Ready

So attractive are the new Fall styles, so pleasing the new patterns and colorings in these new suits and overcoats that they are selling on sight. Men seem to be hungry for just the sort of merchandise represented by these new Fall models. The styles are smart and new, yet not so extreme as to be freakish. Patterns are distinctly different from those of former seasons, yet are conservative in their character and in extremely good taste.

We have put into the manufacture of these suits (they are our own make, you know) all the experience and knowledge that have come to us in our long career as manufacturers of men's clothing. We put them out to the public confident that they are the best garments produced in this country for the prices at which they are sold.

We are, moreover, absolutely certain of the service they will give and we back each and every suit up with a guarantee of a new suit in place of any one which does not meet your idea of satisfactory service.
